Title: Citizenship, Cobalt 3/4/00

Author: Cobalt

Cobalt was born and raised in trinsic. His parents, whom he lived with until he was 18, set out one evening from trinsic and never returned. Cobalt of course already had some skills in managing on his own and joined a local guild around the area called the Wild Blood Clan. After months of training, no help from the Wild Blood Clan, he moved up to the northern part of britainnia in search of an area to build a house. Cobalt then came across a man named Lance Calhoune. This man was in danger of parrishing to an orc lord (Shardie). Cobalt moved in swiftly to slay the beast and with that, he was granted a plot in what was considered to be part of pax at the time. A year later Cobalt now mostly spends his life in the Pax Lair Salloon.
